

rainy season love affair

The best thing I remember
Of that woman in November
Is her warm smell
And a feeling that I have no words for

My heart had to surrender
When she walked into the center
Of my lonely world
And then walked back out again

It was the rainy season
Here in Seattle
The misty darkness that feels like forever
It was beyond all reason
But easy like breathing
I could hear my own heart beating

I still recall the splendor
Of that moment in November
When I fell in love
With a foolish fantasy.....

It was the rainy season
Here in Seattle
The misty darkness that feels like forever
It was beyond all reason
But easy like breathing
I could hear my own heart beating
