

ghost

She told you she loved you in '79
Entrapped your heart in her wiles
Even then she knew she could have you Whenever she so desired

Sat down for coffee in '95
When she checked in to see if your love was alive
She had you once more and it fed her need
But left you wanting again

She's the one that got away
The one you believed had been set apart
I never stood a ghost of a chance with the ghost of the woman who broke your heart

She had you believing again this time
Not long ago that it was for real
Then she pulled out the rug; your heart dropped to the floor
Yet you're still yearning for more

You know she'll be back; it is her way
Drive-by lover who can't let you go
Smashing your life, haunting your mind
Making her mess, leaving you behind

She's the one that got away
The one you believed had been set apart
I never stood a ghost of a chance
with the ghost of the woman who broke your heart
